ROYALE'S 2ND WEST COAST SUMMIT HIGHLIGHTS ENERGY OUTLOOK

San Diego, June 23, 2010 – Royale Energy, Inc (NASDAQ:ROYL) announced today that conference attendees at the company's 2nd West Coast Energy Summit heard from speakers including New York Times best-selling author Christopher Horner, nationally syndicated columnist/author Michelle Malkin and other experts regarding America's future.

Last weekend's three day Santa Barbara conference, which included a private tour of the Reagan Ranch Center and the Reagan Ranch, the 40th President's former "Western White House", afforded participants briefings on topics including fundamentals, economics and opportunities within the energy sector. Energy summit attendees were also part of an exclusive Young America's Foundation "Reagan Roundtable" event featuring Michelle Malkin, author of "Culture of Corruption", who discussed the current national political climate.

Christopher Horner, Senior Fellow with the Competitive Enterprise Institute and author of the new book, "Power Grab", briefed Summit participants concerning the latest issues in the energy industry, including fresh attempts to approve new energy legislation in the Nation's Capital.

Horner has spoken and written extensively on energy and tax issues and stated, "Although a non-transparent tax, "cap-and-trade" manages the rare feat of also being a rationing scheme - that's the "cap". Cap and trade is designed to force fuel-switching in the near-term from coal to natural gas as the only proven reliable energy and lower emissions (other than nuclear, which remains in political limbo), until some alternative not foreseeable today."

The June West Coast Energy Summit was the latest in a series of exclusive conferences to be held by Royale Energy across America. The inaugural event last fall featured speakers including former Virginia Governor George Allen and industry legend T. Boone Pickens. In coming months, conferences will also be held at other historic sites on the East Coast.
