ROYALE TODAY ANNOUNCED THAT IT HAS COMPLETED THE ACQUISITION OF THE N. JAMESON AND BIG MINERAL CREEK PROPERTIES FROM WEST COAST ENERGY

December 10, 2018 -- San Diego, California – Royale Energy, Inc., (OTCQB : ROYL) announced that it has completed the acquisition of the N. Jameson and Big Mineral Creek properties in the Permian Basin in Texas, from West Coast Energy.

The N. Jameson property currently is producing 64 BOEPD adding $6 Million in PV10 value and 1P (total proved) net reserves of 542,000 Barrels Oil Equivalent based on company estimates. This property has 7,465 net acres in which more than 30 proved undeveloped locations have been identified by 3D Seismic in the Strawn, Odom and Ellenberger formations. This transaction increases company working interest to 95% and adds operational control. Royale intends to develop these high-quality drilling locations with the continued help of its drilling participants.

Johnny Jordan Royale's President and COO states, "this acquisition increases our proved undeveloped drilling inventory to more than 75 high quality drilling locations across Texas and California which insures Royale of several years of significant and high-quality drilling activity."

The Big Mineral Creek properties are non-operated interests in 5 producing Units over 10,000 gross contiguous acres in Grayson County, Texas.
